European Economic Security

Thursday, July 18, 2024 at 2 pm (s.t.), Neue Aula, Audimax

Moritz Schularick

Moritz Schularick is President of the Kiel Institute for the World Economy and Professor of Economics at Sciences Po (Paris). His research focuses on financial markets and asset prices, monetary macroeconomics, and the causes of financial crises and economic inequality.

Prior to his appointment in Kiel, Moritz Schularick was Professor of Macroeconomics at the University of Bonn and Director of the MacroFinance Lab there. He is a Fellow of the DFG-Excellence Cluster ECONtribute and a full member of the Berlin-Brandenburg Academy of Sciences and the Academia Europea. Previously, he conducted research at New York University, the University of Cambridge, Free University of Berlin, and in the research department of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, among others.

Moritz Schularick is the recipient of the 2022 Leibniz Prize, Germany's most prestigious research prize, awarded by the German Research Foundation (DFG). In 2018, he received the Gossen Prize of the Verein für Socialpolitik, the most important award given to German economists. He is the editor of „Economic Policy“, Europe's leading journal on economic policy.

Moritz Schularick regularly advises central banks, ministries of finance, investors, and international organizations.

The Bundesbank-IAW Lecture at the University of Tübingen invites leading economists to present their research on the future direction of the European and global economy.
